Brownell of St. Louis, were with him in his last hours. The interment will be in St. Louis. During his recent illness he has talked in his delirium of his efforts to disclose the During his recent illness he has talked conspiracy of the Knights of the Golden Circle, which he investigated while acting as assistant to the provost marshal general of St. Louis. Capt. Brownell was born in Troy, N. Y. July 18, 1840. Hie enlisted April 30, 1861, in the eleventh New York infantry, Ells-worth's Fire Zouaves. He afterward entered the infantry and was promoted to first lieutenant, and was retired November 4, 1833, on account of injuries received in the line of duty. On the 24th of May, 1861, occurred the event which made Capt. Brownell the avenger of the first blood of the war shed in the south. The story concerns one of the most dramatic incidents of the war. and has been made familiar in song and story. Col. Elisworth, with his command landing in Alexandria on the morning of the day, and while marching through the city, his eye was attracted by a confederate fiag which was displayed over the Marshail House. Col. Elisworth simply directed a file of soldiers to accompany, and, entering the house, he proceeded to the roof, where the colors were soon lowered. As he was coming down stairs the proprietor of the house, Mr. Jackson, ame out from his bed room and shot Col. Ellsworth. Immediately Capt. Brownell shot Jackson. The occurrence created the greatest excitement throughout the coun-schools of his city, and says he will not "take a back seat" for the New York schools, or any other schools except those of Wash ington, to which, he says, he most decidedly "takes off his hat."

AMUSEMENTS.

"Sinbad."-To many the spectular drama offers the most attractive amusement, and that it takes well in Washington was demonstrated by the large audiences that witnessed "America" last week. "Sinbad," a spectacle that has had great success whereever it has been presented, will be seen at Albaugh's next week. It will come with all its gorgeous scenery and costumes that have made it so popular, and there will be members, thus showing that the death rate have made it so popular, and there will be for the District of Columbia is below the lots of pretty girls, some good acting and many attractive specialties. "Peck's Bad Boy."-A play that has held its own for several seasons is "Peck's Bad Boy," and although it has been seen in Washington frequently, it is always weland such will be the case when it comes to Harris' Bijou Theater next week. May Russell Burlesque Company.—Manager Kernan is always up to date with his attractions, and next week he will bring to the Lyceum Theater the May Russell Burlesque Company, an organization contain-on the variety stage. The program will be varied and interesting.

Miss Richards' Lecture.—Tonight at Carroll Institue Hall Miss Janet Elizabeth Richards will deliver her illustrated lecture. entitled "One Week in London; What May Be Seen in That Time." Miss Richards has already gained quite a reputation as a lec-turer, not only by the excellent matter of tures of this season's course. Admittance her discourses, but by the clear and effect-will be by card. Her illustrations are from photographis that she herself secured while visiting in the great English capital. Dr. Bryant Tonight.—Tonight Dr. George Wellington Bryant will deliver a lecture at the Metropolitan A. M. E. Church, taking for his subject "The Gray, the Black and the Blue." Dr. Bryant is said to be one of the most finished of colored orators and wherever he has spoken he has met with decided success. Gen. D. E. Sickles will preside and introduce the lecturer, and it is expected that a large number of distin guished men from both houses of Congress will be present.

The Theatrical Mechanics.—On Sunday night there will be a concert at the New National Theater for the benefit of the Theatrical Mechanics' Association. The program will be an attractive one, and some of the best professional and amateur talent will participate. Mr. Hub Smith will introduce his newest song, which it is predicted will make fully as great a hit as any of his well-known successes.

His Pay Reduced.

Joseph Bishop, a bright little thirteenyear-old boy, who has spent several days and nights about the streets, was picked up last night by Policeman Kimmel and taken before Judge Miller this morning. Two nights ago he was with a boy who was arrested for begging, and the officer brought him in to have the court send him to some home or institution. The boy said he was thirteen years old, and had been in the Industrial Home School for nearly thir-ty months, and some time ago he went to was only getting $1.50 a month," he aid, "and that would hardly clothe me."

"His pay, I understand, was reduced from ' interrupted the officer.

"Yes, sir," added the boy. "I was getting $3, and my pay was cut down." "Are your parents living?"
"My father's dead, but my mother lives at Springdale, Fairfax county, Va."
Policeman Kimmel told Judge Miller he thought the boy was a good one, and said ne would like to have him if he were keeping house.

The boy said he was willing and anxious to work, if he could only get enough to buy clothes.

Judge Miller said he would hold the boy for the Industrial Home School, and if he was not wanted there, then the board of guardians will take him.
